Introduction

Evergreen House is a privately-run children's home. Our practice is in accordance with the Care Standards Act 2000, the Children's Homes Regulations 2015 and the guide to the children's homes regulations including the quality standards. The home is regulated by Ofsted.

The home provides care and accommodation for up to 6 boys or girls, aged 8-18, under the category of emotional and/or behavioural difficulties.

Most children considered for placement at Evergreen House will have a history of social services intervention and may have already experienced multiple, failed placements. Some children have exhibited challenging behaviours that have precluded fostering, and residential care is a first option. We promote the merits of residential care and believe that this is the right and most appropriate setting for many children that are looked after. We do not therefore consider that residential care is the second choice or foster this belief in children or their families.

Placements are carefully and meticulously planned, reflecting the view that a residential home is the preferred and most realistic option for the child and a positive choice. We adhere to the belief that, for some children, residential care is a positive experience and the practice of the home and engagement with the child make this a reality.

Managers Statement

At Evergreen we pride ourselves in a child centred approach to care. We take every opportunity to gain the voice of the child and embed their wishes and feelings in all that we do. I am a firm believer that having a greater understanding of the needs of those we care for improves the care we give.

Evergreen is a warm and welcoming home and this is maintained through ensuring inclusivity is always at the forefront of our minds. No child should feel that there is not a place that is right for them and no child should be uncomfortable where they live.

Often the children that we look after have not succeeded in foster placements and require a more structured and boundaried environment in which they can thrive. One where they experience a diverse, qualified group of adults able to deliver high quality care within a residential setting while still maintaining that feeling of being part of a collective.

At Evergreen we use a holistic approach to care by embedding the quality standards into our practice. Each child receives weekly key working which focusses on the 9 quality standards and ensures the needs of the child are explored and met in each area. Through this approach we can celebrate success and overcome challenges.

Children look forward to our weekly forum where we discuss a range of topics such as current affairs, historical events, activities and menus. Each week there is a focus on a particular subject such as black history month, religious festivals, anti-bullying, gangs and sexual health.

We aim to form strong professional relationships with the children in our care so that we are not only able to meet their needs but also help them develop resilience and a positive approach to their lives. We aim to raise each child's cultural capital through broadening their experiences of the world around them and opening them up to opportunities they may have not thought possible before.

Paul Johnston

1. A statement of the range of needs of the children for whom it is intended that the children's home is to provide care and accommodation

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, point 1

Children placed at the home may have emotional and behavioural difficulties, autistic spectrum disorder, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder, oppositional defiant disorder or relationship and attachment difficulties. Children who are admitted into the home will often have suffered abuse or neglect prior to their admission. They may display challenging behaviour, including self-injurious behaviour and have difficulties forming and sustaining relationships.

We aim to provide children with emotional and behavioural difficulties warmth and nurture, providing an environment where they grow and develop. We aim for children to become self-aware and begin to deal with underlying trauma, loss, neglect and rejection.

For those children on the autistic spectrum, we aim to provide a low arousal and structured environment where children's needs are met without the need for them to resort to challenging behaviour.

It is our aim that we will be able to successfully support the children in coming to terms with the underlying reasons for coming into care and to feel, safe, secure, happy and healthy during their time with us. It is our aim that we will provide children with a secure base from which they can develop independence skills and go on to lead fulfilling and successful adult lives.

For some children, Evergreen House will be a home for a significant part of their childhood. For others, the home will be a stepping stone onto other placements such as foster care or a return to the parental home.

Our main focus will be working with children with emotional behavioural difficulties. However, we will consider children from other backgrounds and varying needs depending on the matching of the home and children/staff team in place.

Each child has an allocated key worker providing individual support, advice and guidance. The dedicated team are all appropriately trained and qualified and offer 24-hour support. Quality care is provided with emphasis on the importance of privacy, dignity, rights, choice and fulfilment. These principles enable care to be provided in a manner which keeps the home committed to an individualised approach in all aspects of life.

2. Ethos, Aims and Outcomes

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, point 2

The primary aim is to provide a safe environment where all children's welfare is promoted, and they are cared for in a manner that helps them develop positively and progress. The home will aim to provide a consistent, nurturing and caring environment using a professional approach to maintaining parental boundaries and expectations; to allow healthy and positive relationships to build between the staff team and children in the home. By developing positive relationships, the home aims to provide positive experiences allowing the children to progress and develop a sense of belonging within the home.

We aim to be proactive in seeking and establishing a true and clear picture of each child's unique and specific needs and wishes. We are aware that gathering information and a picture of the child can be challenging. In addition, that while data and agency information can be gathered, there are often limited or vague pictures of the child. Their character, individuality and what makes them special and unique is often absent in information. Where possible we will contact previous carers, establish relationships with family members and those significant in the child's life.

We will provide strong and robust advocacy for the child ensuring that their voice is prominent and influential. We will appropriately challenge decisions where we feel that these are not in the best interest of the child, making clear our rationale and views. Where children express dissatisfaction or wish to make a representation, we will work with that child to help them identify a way forward.

With the child at the forefront, we design an individualised placement plan that demonstrates both the broader, longer-term goals as well as the shorter-term day to day care practices. We aim to encourage the child to take ownership and invest in their plan. They will only achieve this if they are 'connected' and influential in this plan. We believe that it is incumbent upon us to ensure that plans are ambitious and achievable, providing goals that children themselves can measure and celebrate.

Keeping children safe is paramount and therefore risk assessment's must be clear concise and effective. While there are clear roles for staff and the professionals in risk management strategies, we believe that children should be supported to manage risk where this is appropriate and possible. To this end, children are not merely 'risk assessed' as passive responders, they are significant in helping us understand how together we manage and reduce risk. Where the likelihood of harm increases and we have to be more dominant in risk management, we use key working and additional staffing to help children understand the concerns and build strategies with them to help them minimise the risks and keep themselves safe.

Children are therefore instrumental in shaping and influencing their placement plan and actively encouraged to express their wishes, thoughts and feelings in respect of all aspects of their care.

We aim to assist children to successfully deal with significant changes and challenges. We endeavour to develop enterprising strategies, positive relationships and encourage children to take greater levels of control over their lives.

With staff as role models, we aim to help children form and sustain meaningful and beneficial relationships with one another and those important to them. We understand the importance of the wider community and how children can feel marginalised. Therefore, we promote children's involvement in clubs and external activities, enabling them to learn how to behave towards each other and within the local community in a non-discriminatory way. We use these opportunities to encourage them to understand the range of cultures and beliefs that exist within wider communities and use these experiences to discuss and gain insights in to be a productive and valued citizen.

Staff interaction with children will be sensitive, readily available, reliable, warm, responsive and consistent. In this way we aim for children to have a sense of belonging in a stable and caring environment. We aim for children to understand their life story while exploring their identity and culture, developing their interest in life and their future.

We aim for children to be in education, employment or training. We will support them to progress academically by working with educational professionals. We aim for children to develop intellectual and creative skills through the accessible and stimulating environment in the home and through external activities.

We aim for children to be in good health. We will support children to attend routine and specialist medical appointments. We place great importance on nutrition and our menus always constitute a balanced and varied diet. We will support children to keep themselves healthy through exercise and diet. Staff will also encourage engagement with outside services in order to tackle smoking, alcohol or substance use. Staff will ensure that any recommendation from a LAC medical are carried out.

3. Description of Accommodation offered by the home.

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, point 3

The home is a large, detached house, registered for the accommodation of six children of mixed genders. Our normal admissions age for children is aged between seven years and eighteen years of age. This is subject to matching considerations and risk assessment with other children in placement. There are also communal rooms, including an education and games room and conservatory, to allow the children space to relax, as well as a good-sized garden

The accommodation has recently undergone a full refurbishment decorated and maintained to a high standard, providing a friendly and homely atmosphere. The décor of the home is frequently improved and children are encouraged to influence this. We involve all of the children with any development of the home to ensure that their opinions are instrumental in this.

Maintaining safety is extremely important and the home has a built-in fire alarm system, emergency lighting, external CCTV, fire extinguishers, fire doors, heat detectors, auditory door monitoring systems and smoke detectors.

We recognise the importance of providing a home where children can learn to live and enjoy one another's company. The family lounge is warmly and tastefully decorated and comfortable. It is equipped with comfy sofas, chairs and a large screen television.

The Home has a large dining area where children can benefit from family experiences, such as eating and enjoying meals together. We understand that mealtimes can be excellent opportunities for both casual catch ups and richer sources of conversation. Children can have informal discussions with staff and one another about their day, what they would like to do and how they are feeling.

All bedrooms are for single occupancy and have comfortable furnishings. Each child is encouraged to personalise their own space with such things as posters, pictures, themed bedding and personal possessions. We try to encourage all children to make this their space and special for them. Some of the children choose to design their rooms which the home furnishes accordingly.

Staffing ratios ensure that all children receive levels of support in accordance with their care plans and needs. The staff team consists of a Registered Manager, a Deputy Manager, Team Leaders and Support Workers. All staff complete a probationary period prior to qualifying to a minimum of Diploma Level 3 in caring for children.

The homes' staff work to develop relationships, to be good neighbours and friends with the local community and teach children the importance of respecting others. Evergreen liaises closely and proactively with the local police and uses these opportunities to look at safeguarding.

4. Description of the location of the home

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, point 4

Evergreen is situated in a quiet suburb in the city of Canterbury. There is a Dentist, Doctor's Surgery, Opticians, Library, Cinema, bowling alleys, city centre, schools/college/ university nearby and beautiful beaches within a short drive of the home.

There are a number of schools and colleges locally. There are also several football academies within a short travelling distance, there are clubs for children to join such as drama, dance, horse-riding, Scouts, Guides, karate, judo, cadets and trampolining, all a short journey away.

5. The arrangements for supporting the cultural, linguistic and religious needs of children accommodated in the home

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, point 5

When practicable, children are supported to maintain their existing arrangements for religious instruction and observance unless there are specific and positive reasons to consider a change.

Each child's cultural, linguistic and religious beliefs are supported by the home. The matching process performed at the commencement of the placement ensures that the staff have the skills, understanding and ability to meet these needs. Therefore, we invest heavily in the matching process. Children for whom English is not their first language will be encouraged to continue to use their birth language as well as English. This will be arranged through family and, if appropriate, local community groups or translators.

The staff team will always actively support children in pursuit of their beliefs, whether that is, for example, by providing a certain choice of food or particular clothing. Staff will support each child to follow their chosen religion, for example through attendance at a place of worship or the observance of certain days.

Staff training in equality and diversity, discussion in team meetings as well as individual supervision will underpin the approach to supporting the individual needs to children. The home's diary will reflect the various religious festivals that occur during the year so staff can support children who wish to celebrate them.

We will ensure that children can personalise their room and that the quality of care promotes individual identity. This includes a complaints process where issues relating to equality and diversity are taken seriously.

We will ensure that the processes we have in place monitor compliance with equality and diversity.

We will ensure that staff are trained to communicate effectively with children, especially those on the autistic spectrum.

We will support children to be open and tolerant to differences, to gain an understanding of different cultures and beliefs.

We will engage with the local community so children can access others with similar backgrounds and beliefs such church youth groups.

Where we need to be more proactive or directive in challenging discrimination this is challenged through specific and targeted key working sessions.

All staff are trained in equality and diversity.

6. Arrangements for dealing with complaints

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, point 6

To make a formal complaint any professional, parent or member of the public can make a complaint in writing to:

7. Details of how a person, body or organisation involved in the care or protection of a child can access the home's child protection policies or the behaviour management policy.

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, point 7

All child protection policies and the behaviour management policies are centrally held and can be accessed by contacting the manager p.johnston@ahgroup.org.

8-9. The views, wishes and feelings of children.

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, point 8 and 9

We understand that the day to day running of the home will be more effective and positive with the active involvement of children; hearing & responding to their views, wishes & feelings. We aim to ensure that all the children have a voice and no matter how small or big their request is, it is heard, and they feel valued.

Staff aim for children to form attachments with them, thereby giving a feeling of being valued. This means that, on a daily basis, the children's views, wishes and feelings and their experience of the quality of care are not only listened to but also acted upon.

Key working provides each child with a formal mechanism to express themselves as well as have their views and comments recorded. In addition, children's collective views are gathered in formal and informal house meetings. We encourage children to identify agenda items and themes and try and make these meetings meaningful and engaging occasions.

We also understand that children do not always feel comfortable in more formal settings therefore we may have a house meeting during a meal, on a day out or in other less formal settings. We believe that the most important outcome is to engage the children in effective dialogue, and we will always adapt and innovate to achieve this.

Children are involved and consulted in relation to all aspects of their lives more formally through full involvement in all meetings about their care and especially statutory reviews. All children are offered an advocate to represent their views. Staff will also consult with the placing social worker and independent review officer to get the views of children as well as parents if appropriate.

Staff will ensure that children know how to access the internal complaints procedure and will take complaints forward on behalf of children even when the child does not wish to write it down but is nevertheless making a complaint about their care.

Our approach to anti-discriminatory practice is underpinned by our equality and diversity policy. We have an inclusive environment and will ensure that there is no discrimination through direct discrimination, discrimination arising from disability, indirect discrimination, failure to make reasonable adjustments, harassment or victimisation. This forms part of the ethos of the home and is integral to our quality monitoring processes.

Staff will inform children of their right to speak to someone independent of the home such as their IRO, social worker, advocate, children's rights commissioner, Ofsted or independent visitor.

Staff will ensure that children know their right to personal advisor at age 16 and their right to a pathway plan.

Staff will ensure that children know the role of the designated LAC teacher and virtual school head to help with their academic success.

10-12. Education

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, point 10 and 12 (11 not applicable)

We are committed to promoting children's educational achievement and ensuring we support them to fulfil their full academic potential. We do recognise that many of the children in our care have received very little stable education in the past. It is important that we build the children's self-esteem and support them in recognising that, with some motivation on their part they can achieve and take greater responsibility for their own future outcomes.

Staff will support the child's education, health and care plan (EHCP) that outlines the child's special educational, health, and social care needs. They will ensure that the specific, detailed, and quantified points in the plan, that they can contribute to, are met to the highest standard. Staff will challenge others when they believe that professional practice is falling short of the expected standard and having a negative impact on the child. Staff will attend the statutory review of the EHCP and give a view on how to further support the child.

Staff may request an EHCP if they deem it to be in the best interest of the child. Should a local authority decline to make an assessment, staff will lodge an appeal for a "refusal to assess" hearing. Staff will work with other professionals for a formal diagnosis on the special educational needs and/or reports from other professionals such as an education psychologist.

Staff will support children to develop their independent study skills. This will include providing the necessary resource and space within the home so children can study. They will develop an understanding of the barriers to learning and help each child understand the importance of a good education. For children who are excluded from school or refusing to attend, staff will work with the school to provide suitable learning in the home throughout the period of exclusion or non-attendance. This may include the provision of a home tutor. Staff will ensure that schools follow the statutory guidance on exclusions and any special provision for looked after children.

Each child's personal education plan (PEP) is an integral part of their care plan, and these arrangements are agreed upon admission or as soon as possible thereafter. The social worker and school, along with the manager of the home, will ensure that this is addressed and influenced by the child and key worker. Staff will report to and attend the PEP reviews and ensure that a copy of the PEP is kept in the home, accessible to staff.

Where children are already attending an educational provision at the time of their admission, every effort will be made to ensure there is no interruption in their existing provision.

Staff will attend any parent evenings at the school and ensure that a copy of the child's school report is kept on file.

13. Enjoying and Achieving

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, point 13

Staff support each child to develop interests and hobbies, whether this is within or outside of the Home. We believe it is vital that the children take part in activities that they enjoy and if we do not already supply a particular activity, we look into any reasonable suggestion that is made. Children are able to choose and discuss activities in various ways such as discussing with their keyworker or in a children's meeting.

The registered manager holds a budget specifically to provide a variety of activities that develop and meet the needs of the children in our care. These can vary from trampolining to visiting theme parks and zoos. In addition, other community activities are encouraged such as charity and sports events.

We encourage participation in group and individual activities. These range from physical activity such as cycling or going to the gym to games nights or art and craft within the home.

14. Health Considerations

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, point 14

The Health and Wellbeing of each child is an integral part of our service, and as such we lead or support referrals to CYPMHS (CAMHS) and associated NHS services.

Where assessed, and in co-operation with the placing authority, we endeavour to facilitate unique and bespoke support for the children placed in our care, through external integrative counsellors. Counsellors/therapists utilised for our children will be qualified and affiliated with a recognised professional body.

Each program is centered around the needs of the child and assessments and summaries will be monitored, to consider the effectiveness of the support packages. These will be made available to inform the statutory reviews and retained for reference on each young person's file / care plan.

15. Positive Relationships

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, point 15

We recognise the huge benefit of harmonious and enjoyable visits between children and their friends and family. We also understand that these visits can be challenging at times and that this often needs high levels of support and preparation from staff. Where necessary we use both additional staffing and more formal key working to prepare children for more challenging family arrangements. Staff may provide supervised contact and will agree the parameters and interventions with the placing social worker as well as the format of the subsequent report prior to any visit taking place.

We understand that time with family and friends must be promoted, encouraged and be beneficial. We ensure that we place the child at the centre of all these arrangements by acting on their behalf, providing advocacy and advice.

We encourage telephone contact and electronic communications such as email and Skype subject to any restrictions or limitations within the care plan.

We support arrangements for time with family and friends by providing transport, liaison and through discussion and support. We always provide a welcoming and friendly atmosphere, which we understand is important to achieving individual aims and to facilitate the role of the parents in the child's future. The home will ensure that relatives and friends are provided comfort in the home and privacy if appropriate.

16-17. The Protection of Children

Matters to be included in the statement of purpose Schedule 1, points 16 and 17

The homes approach to the monitoring and surveillance of children

We understand the fine balance between personal freedom and people's rights to privacy and keeping people safe. We operate a CCTV system which covers external areas of the home only. CCTV assists with security by monitoring who may come onto our premises or to our front door. Each site has a DVR which captures and stores images for 30 days and is only accessible by a certified external professional. Request to access can only be made by senior staff within the company.

We provide door warning devices in the home which we are able to switch on or off as risk assessments and circumstances present. These devices are only used when we believe it is necessary to enhance existing safeguarding and protection. All staff are aware that electronic devices in whichever form are not a substitute for effective staff supervision. Any such use is individually risk assessed, agreed with the placing social worker that such monitoring is needed for safeguarding purposes and agreed with the child as far as reasonably practicable.

The homes approach to physical intervention/behaviour management

The home adopts an ethos of positive behaviour management, rewarding good behaviour rather than penalising poor behaviour. Staff use a natural consequence and restorative justice approach with the aim of helping children mature into young adults who take responsibility for their behaviour.

All staff will receive regular training in the safeguarding of children and are certified in MAPA / Safety Intervention. This training focuses on de-escalation techniques. All staff understand that physical intervention is the last resort. Ground floor restraints are not used.

Children in the home must be looked after without favouritism or antipathy. The deployment of suitably qualified and experienced staff in appropriate numbers enables us to provide children with appropriate levels of support. Our aim is for children to be looked after by a stable and consistent staff team with whom they can form meaningful and enriching relationships where children feel listened to and do not need to resort to challenging behaviour.

When physical intervention is unavoidable every incident is fully recorded in accordance with the Children's Homes Regulation's 2015 and includes the child's comments and views. Staff will talk through difficult situations afterwards and agree with the child a plan to ensure that this behaviour and intervention can be avoided in the future. The registered manager, or appointed senior, will also undertake a staff debrief and meet the child following each episode of physical intervention to establish if the actions were warranted and the effectiveness of the intervention. They will also ensure that the paperwork is completed appropriately, reflects and details the event and is within timescales. The placing social worker will be notified of significant incidents.

Staff competence in Safety Intervention is assessed through the analysis of physical intervention incidents that they are involved in, as well as the annual refresher training. Internal Safety Intervention trainers complete a "train the trainer" course and are responsible for signing staff as competent.

It is not normal practice to involve the police to help manage behaviour.

Behaviour management forms part of the key performance indicators for the home as well as a focus at quality monitoring visits.

Behaviour management is a key aspect of staff training, emphasising to staff that the focus is to be pro-active, using distraction and de-escalation with physical intervention only ever used as a last resort.

Behaviour management

Staff work in a culture where positive reward is the norm. Risks and control measures are made known to them in detailed risk assessments and behaviour support plans. Behaviour management is a key part of staff training, emphasising for staff to be pro-active, focusing on the positives and using distraction and de-escalation techniques for the negatives.

Staff adopt a natural consequences and restorative justice approach when dealing with the outcome of poor behaviour or choices. On occasion, the staff may use a sanction to rectify behaviour. This is documented and subject to management scrutiny to ensure that is proportionate and effective.

Waking night staff can be provided depending on the individual needs of each child.

Staff meetings are held regularly, and all staff are expected to attend.

All staff receive supervision in line with Acorn Home's supervision policy and have annual appraisals carried out by their line manager.

Supervision is the key process by which managers can ensure that staff know the contribution they are expected to make, as individuals and as members of a team, and that they are supported in achieving this through individual performance and development plans.

Explicit within this policy is a commitment to ensure that every member of staff receives regular, purposeful and dedicated time with their line manager or supervisor.

The purpose of supervision is to: -

- Develop a culture of equality for staff and children
- Reflect on and improve practice.

- A placement must be made immediately (on the same day) because of the breakdown of the child's current placement.
